Ed Robertson is an award-winning author/journalist who divides his time between collaborative writing and editing, and hosting and producing his weekly radio show, TV Confidential. He has had eight books published covering such genres as biography, media and entertainment, including Maverick: Legend of the West (“a notable work of television journalism,” according to the Nassau Herald) and Thirty Years of The Rockford Files, a behind-the-scenes history of the groundbreaking, influential and Emmy Award-winning detective series starring James Garner. In addition, Ed has written for The New York Times, Media Life Magazine, The Wave Magazine and other media venues, including Columbia House Video Library, Highbury House Communications and the TalkAmerica Radio Network.

As a result of his books on film and television, Ed has been tapped as a consultant, researcher and onscreen commentator for several television documentaries, including “Hollywood Maverick,” an hour-long look at the career of James Garner that airs regularly on the Biography Channel and Turner Movie Classics; “Who Shot J.R.?: The Dallas Phenomenon,” a featurette produced by Warner Bros. Home Video; and “Married With Children: A Look Back,” which airs about three times a year on The Biography Channel.

Ed is also an accomplished ghostwriter and editor with a proven track record for producing books, articles and other content for publishers, agents, companies, and individual authors. His collaborations include The Ethics of Star Trek, an engaging blend of pop culture and classic philosophy that he co-authored with Indiana State University professor Judith Barad; Voice of Reason, a best-selling book of political commentary by National Radio Hall of Fame nominee Ronn Owens; the memoirs Keep on Keeping On and Unfulfilled Dreams; and Once Upon a Time: Elvis and Anita: Memories of My Mother by Jonnita Brewer Barrett, the daughter of singer Anita Wood and former NFL All-Pro Johnny Brewer.

Since 2008, Ed has produced and hosted TV Confidential, a syndicated radio talk show that takes listeners behind the scenes of network and cable television, featuring interviews with special guests from the world of entertainment. TV Confidential is heard every week on several stations; archives of previous shows are available online at www.tvconfidential.net.

Ed Robertson is a member of the Authors Guild, the American Society of Journalists and Authors, and the Association of Ghostwriters.
